> ## WorkCapcha is the only intelligent time and activity recording tool that sits inside Microsoft Teams, in the cloud.

Traditional time tracking can be an inaccurate, painful and time-consuming task that detracts from chargeable client work. Employees are limited to recording activities they can remember, rather than fact.

In today's world, firms can no longer turn a blind eye to revenue leakage from unrecorded time. They need accurate data to understand and act upon to optimise productivity and justify increasing billable time.

It's time your firm was freed from the burden of manual timesheets.
After all, your time matters. So let us help you make the most of it.
Introducing WorkCapcha

CloudCapcha is reinventing time recording in the accounting world with WorkCapcha.

WorkCapcha is the only intelligent time and activity recording tool that sits inside Microsoft Teams, in the cloud.

It seamlessly integrates into a Firm's existing Practice Management and billing systems to automatically track, convert and analyse the user's digital journey. This enables firms' employees to focus on their clients and make every second count.

WorkCapcha provides users, and the business, with accurate insights to help them make informed decisions to boost their productivity and profitability through efficiency, not burnout.

Our smooth set-up process means you can be up and running quickly without needing to change your Practice Management or billing routines.
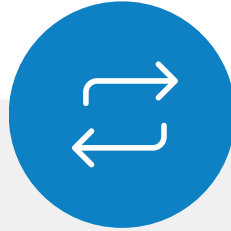

How does it work?

Track

Track calls, emails, meetings, and activities from your accounting applications and these activities will automatically appear in your DayBook so you don't have to remember what you did yesterday.

Convert

Employees are presented with their digital journey first, so they decide what to convert from their DayBook into their timesheet. The time entries then appear in your Practice Management System, ready for billing.

Analyse

Turn accurate data into relevant insights that have never been seen before to boost productivity and profitability through efficiency.

Benefits

Increase billing: by reducing the leakage of unrecorded time, firms can capture more time and increase billing

Improve gross margin: accurate time recording provides factual insights into the cost of production, leading to improvements in gross margin

Optimise productivity: by increasing visibility into how time is being spent firms can make data-driven decisions to empower their teams to work smarter, not harder, and deliver the best outcome to ensure client satisfaction

Improve employee wellbeing: Support employees in managing their work/life balance and use trends to get ahead of staff burnout

Increase efficiencies: By automating the time recording process employees spend less time reconstructing their day and more time on their clients

"We love WorkCapcha. It's helping us to see the true cost of a job. Most of all, it saves our people approximately 40 minutes a day compared to manually completing a timesheet
